

The Chain Rule

"f-g-free version"

The derivative of a composition of functions is the derivative of the outside function, evaluated at the inside function, times the derivative of the inside function.